

Kicking it: soccer style

The Cookeville High School Boys' Soccer Team began their season in March with one win, four losses and one tied game. The game against Soddy-Daisy on March 30 resulted in a score of 0-2, in Soddy-Daisy's favor.

Coach Charlie Hardee, however, said he does not consider this a poor start as they have played games against high-ranking teams such as Soddy-Daisy, Oakland and Notre Dame. Team members Blake Walker, Will Putman, Wesley Boles and Andrew Ebersole, along with goalies Chuck Acheson and Paul Gilbert, have bolstered the team greatly thus far.

Soccer may not be the most prevalent sport in Tennessee, but its popularity has increased in recent years. "You learn how to have humility," Coach Hardee explained.

Coach Hardee did not have soccer in his high school years, but developed an interest in the sport after attending Tennessee Technological University. He received a job coaching soccer at Warren County, where he remained for fifteen years before coming to Cookeville High School.

He added that the cooperation between the various coaches here has been key to Cookeville High School's many successful sports teams and what should hopefully lead to a great season this year as well.

The Lady Cavs Softball season is well under way. They began their season with their first two wins at home against Warren County and White County. The Lady Cavs traveled to Hendersonville for the Commando Classic where they had one win and three losses. Senior Kayla Allen had a home run in game two against Sycamore. On Apr. 4 and 5 the Lady Cavs travelled to Cumberland County and Smith County where they came away with two hard losses. On Apr. 8 and 9 they travelled to Warren Co. and White County where they came away with two wins, which makes the Lady Cavs 4-0 in their district. Rain delays have caused several changes in the schedule. Come and support Lady Cavs Softball as they compete in "The Duff" Cookeville Invitational Apr. 22-23. They are set to wind up their season with several home games including Apr. 25 vs. Oakland, Apr. 26 vs. Lebanon, Apr. 28 vs. Siegel, and Apr. 29 vs.

Getting on track

A new track and field season is already underway here at Cookeville High School. With several new competitors, a new coach and new event rules, this season is bound to be eventful as the team adjusts to the changes.

Men's Track Coach Jerry Joslin is assisted this year by Justin Birdwell, a recent CHS graduate who has come back to help others.

While those running on the track have trained and conditioned on a rigorous schedule, those in the field events have put in an equal effort perfecting their form and balance off the racetrack.

The Girl's Track team this year is being coached by Bill Wrasman. The seniors this year include Danny Day and Matty Dailey who are both runners leaving the field events completely to underclassmen.

Those who normally run are now having to do field events and vice versa for the lack of athletes. The team as a whole has had to adjust to the change in rules, which makes it impossible to have more than four events for each person. There are a total of seventeen events at a meet, but the new rule makes it difficult to have a competitor in each.

The team is preparing for the District and Region meets in May when fourteen schools will be competing. The sectionals will follow a week after and will be the final competition.

The CHS track and field team are looking forward to a very competitive and productive season.
